"Leo the Lion". Created by Dursley Open Door.

Sponsored by Dursley Lions.

An ambitious project created in mosaics, assisted by local artist Gill Littleford.

Since its launch in 2008 the Trail has successfully encouraged many local residents and visitors to appreciate Dursley's woodlands.

Twinberrow Wood is an important wildlife habitat which supports a diverse eco-system.

Dursley is situated in a wooded valley under the Cotswold escarpment and on the Cotswold Way, the long distance National Trail from Chipping Camden to Bath.

"Walkers are Welcome" in Dursley.

The countryside around Dursley also provides attractive walks including the footpaths over Stinchcombe Hill, Cam Peak and Cam Long Down, with wonderful views over the River Severn towards Wales and the Forest of Dean, the Malvern Hills and south towards the Seven Estuary and the Bristol area.

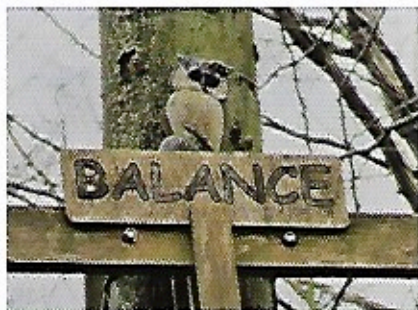

Local groups of varying abilities and ages (under 5s to over 90s) have helped to create individual works.

“Reminiscence” - memories of youthful days in local woodland. Created by residents of Henlow Court.

“We treasure these memories as sadly, some of those who created the memories are no longer with us.”

Some have been sponsored by progressive local businesses and some have worked closely with professional sculptors who have helped to interpret creative ideas around the theme of healthy living.

“Healthy Balance of Life”. Created by Rednock School Design Technology Department.

"Pyramid Abacus". Designed by Krystyna Dembny
Activity play for all ages.
Created by B Griffiths. Sponsored by Dr J M Bird.

Schools and Colleges have used the opportunity to encourage the development of students' artistic and creative talents.

"Woodland Creatures". Created by children and staff from Cam Woodfield Infant School.
